Craft: The Second Year

Make Books, $59.99, 640 pages

The magazine Craft, is a quarterly publication produced by the same people behind Make magazine. Craft is a project-based magazine, incorporating DIY projects in a variety of themes and materials. Projects range from stained glass, quilting, weaving, or making your own shoes. This slip-cased collection of the second year is perfect for the home crafter interested in expanding the types of projects they do. Often the projects include recycling, repurposing, and reusing. Sure, it'd probably be cheaper to get a subscription to the magazine, but if you missed last year this is an easy way to get them all and to give you plenty to do between this years issues.
